

Employee Spotlight: Amy Smith, Inside Sales & Marketing

Amy to get started could you tell us what your position entails?

I work with our customers and vendors answering questions, providing product information, receiving and entering purchase orders, and really anything else pertaining to our customers. On the marketing side I'm responsible for communications, organizing our training programs and other company events.

How long have you worked at RRF?

I've been at R.R.Floody for 11 years

That's a long time, how did you get your start?

I had recently graduated from college and was looking for a job. I started using a Staffing Service to help in my search and there was an opportunity for an Inside Sales position.

What was the first job that you ever had?

When I was 16 I worked for my Dad's company microfilming over the summer.

I got to ask, what's microfilming?

You sit in a dark room all day and copy paper documents to microfilm. I learned quickly that I did not want to do that again.

What do you like to do outside of work?

I play volleyball year round. I played volleyball in college. In fact I got a 4 year scholarship to Western Illinois University to play volleyball. Now I play recreationally, indoor in the winter and in the summer months I play sand volleyball outside. I really enjoy it.

What are some key lessons you have taken from your career thus far?

- Communication is key
- Organization is a MUST
- Try to mix a little fun in your day

What do you like about working at R.R. Floody?

The teamwork and the great friendships that I have established over the years. Plus with the products that we carry there is always new technology to learn which keeps things interesting. Things are changing all the time...

Do you have a favorite Sports Team?

I have been a Cubs and Bears fan my whole life!

- Thanks to Amy for sharing a little about herself and we look forward to spotlighting her co-workers in the month's to come.
